OUTRAGE TO THE SENTINEL.

We gave on yesterday an account of the successful efforts of some incarnate fiend to destroy the Raleigh Sentinel printing press, and denounced in strong language the falsehoods of the inhuman and diabolical act.

The news of Mr. Turner's misfortune and the manner in which it was wrought, will excite deep sympathy for him throughout the State, and will arouse the indignation of every honorable man, without regard to party feeling or affiliation.

Mr. Turner's friends feel assured that political malice was at the bottom of the dark and infamous deed. They believe it was instigated and set on foot by some member or members of the Radical party, because of the Sentinel's bold and fearless denunciations of certain members of that party.

If the political opponents of the Sentinel think they can injure that paper by such atrocious means, they will find that they will fail of their mark most signally.

Such attempts to injure and destroy it, will rebound upon the heads of the guilty perpetrators, and will strengthen and up build the Sentinel.

We trust that the most searching investigation will be made, and the guilty parties ferreted out and punished.

If such outrages are permitted to go unreburdened and undetected, no man's life or property will be safe in this community—and we will be at the mercy of incendiaries and malicious fiends.

While we sympathize with Mr. Turner and regret his loss and the inconvenience to which he is personally subjected, our duty to the public demands that we should hold up the conduct of the individual who committed the outrage on his property as an enemy to mankind, and as deserving the severest punishment which the law can inflict.

If this dastardly act was done from personal malice or for the purpose of entailing pecuniary loss upon Mr. Turner, his friends will see to it that such a purse shall miscarry.

It was done to wreak political vengeance on him for his denunciation of political crimes and criminals, his party will see to it that his injury shall be more than repaired.

It was done to strike down the freedom of the press, one of the chief bulwarks of civil liberty, then a great public wrong has been committed, which calls for universal condemnation and the severest denunciation.

It was done to bring the contest of the press, one of the chief bulwarks of civil liberty, then a great public wrong has been committed, which calls for universal condemnation and the severest denunciation.

View it as we may, the act is without excuse and without mitigation.

The wretch who perpetrated it deserves the contempt, loathing and execration of every one who has a spark of manhood, or honor, or honesty.

THE MEETING ON THURSDAY.

We gave in yesterday's issue an account of the meeting held in this city last Thursday, by leading members of the Conservative and Liberal Republicans, to consult in regard to the propriety of contesting the State election.

After a full and free interchange of opinion, the sentiment was unanimous that there should be no abandonment of the purpose to contest, but on the other hand it was determined that the work of investigation should be prosecuted with renewed vigor.

Reports were read from a large number of counties, but as several had made no report at all, it was deemed best not to give notice to the opposing candidates, until a complete and thorough investigation in every county had been made.

A number of cases of open and positive fraud were disclosed, as well as gross violations of the law and fatal irregularities, but we do not deem it proper to make a full statement on these points until the labors of the Central Executive Committee have been concluded.

A number of instances of fraud have been sent in without any supporting evidence, and several counties where rumors of violation of the election law are current, have not reported at all.

It is earnestly desired that each township in the State that has not done so already, shall send to the Central Executive Committee every instance of improper voting—with details of the evidence of the illegality. These reports should be forwarded at once so that the Committee may be prepared to make a full statement from every county, by the time the Legislature meets.

Our party will proceed prudently but firmly and discreetly.

The people demand that the purity of the ballot be preserved, and to that end, it is the desire of the Committee to be placed in possession of all the facts relating to the frauds, to ferret them out, so as to enable the Legislature to take such steps as justice and the popular will and verdict demand.

Of the candidates on our State ticket, there were present Judge Merrimon, Major Hughes, Major Graham, Mr. Jos. Separk and Mr. Womack. The views of these gentlemen seemed to be in entire accord in regard to their duty in the premises—from which they will not shrink under any circumstances.

The Southerner urges the people of Edgecombe to attend the public speakings. The Southerner urges an active canvass. If the people will respond to the appeals of the press, we will gain more than three votes in each township, and thus secure the State for Greeley and Brown.

CAPT. WILLIAM BIGGS, of the Southerner, and H. L. Staton, Jr., have made appointments for a thorough canvass of the old Edgecombe. Go ahead. Let other States do as they will, but let North Carolinians do their whole duty.

The Tarboro Southerner denounces in strong and scathing language the recent infamous conduct of the Radicals in Pitt county, headed by one Calvin Cox, towards the people of that county.

The Southerner urges the people of Edgecombe to attend the public speakings. The Southerner urges an active canvass. If the people will respond to the appeals of the press, we will gain more than three votes in each township, and thus secure the State for Greeley and Brown.

the individual who committed the outrage on his property as an enemy to mankind, and as deserving the severest punishment which the law can inflict.

But we shall win! Our Liberal Republicans did well in Pennsylvania. In parts of Ohio they won signal victory, while the Grant majority in the State is handsomely reduced. In Indiana the Liberal and Democratic victory has been won in the face of such lavish efforts to kill the free suffrages of a State by importation and by midnight chipping as even Morton never before attempted, and neither he nor anybody can again achieve.

And now we are in the open field! It is no longer possible to concentrate a Cabinet, a Treasury, all the patronage and all the money of the National Administration on two or three States. Thirty-seven States cannot be gagged in a night, like North Carolina and Pennsylvania, or overpowered by sheer weight like Maine. On the broader field the contest assumes a fair aspect; and Indiana gives us the omen of victory. Under her inspiration the splendid Liberal Republican and Democratic organizations in Illinois declare they can win; and, knowing their work and their power, we believe them. Consider once more the list of States as it may fairly be placed to-day, in the light of the elections within a week in Georgia, Connecticut and Indiana:

Greeley, Electors Grant, Electors Alabama, 10 Iowa, 5 Kansas, 5 Maine, 7 Massachusetts, 4 Michigan, 11 New Hampshire, 11 New Jersey, 11 New York, 12 Vermont, 5 Total, 119

Leaving still seriously contested California, 6 New Hampshire, 5 Illinois, 21 North Carolina, 10 Minnesota, 5 Rhode Island, 4 Mississippi, 8 Wisconsin, 10 Total, 178

That leaves us but six votes to win from the doubtful States; it leaves Grant fifty-five. On that showing, who can doubt which side the chances lie? Illinois will elect Mr. Greeley—or North Carolina—or California—or Minnesota. Each is promising; either one of the four would settle the fight. Courage, Friends! the enemy have done their worst; we have wrested Indiana from their grasp, and the way to final victory is clear!

water superior to these historic "roads." As we stood upon the beach, and rested our eye upon Craney Island, memory was busy with the past, and the recollections of the great, heroic struggle of the Southern people for liberty came sadly back to us. We peopled that island with those "who wore the grey," and asked ourself, if at times their disembodied spirits did not visit the scenes of their early efforts for the "lost cause."

Oh! who that has worn the gray and bled for the South can cease to remember those bright days, when hope blossomed so sanguinely in our hearts?

These memories tenderly abide now—out of the way—with the rusty sword and the faded uniform. Those hopes are buried now, and we, the remnant of those who went out to battle for the "sunny South," are constrained to sit down in sackcloth and ashes to bewail our desolation.

We paid a short visit to "town," as the people here call Norfolk, last Saturday, and while there, went into the office of the Norfolk Journal. Mr. Borum, we dare say, is a clever gentleman, and how could he be anything but clever and social, when it is known that he is almost ready to join the fraternity of fat men.

Major Baker Lee, formerly of the Journal, is advertised to address our people next Saturday—and should we chance to be present we will give your readers our impressions of a Virginia orator. Until then, we sign as in the past,

Col. W. H. H. Cowles for Reading Clerk.

Mr. Editor: While others are bringing to the attention of members of the Legislature the names of numerous worthy gentlemen for various legislative offices and places, I beg to mention that of Col. William H. H. Cowles of Wilkes County, for the office of Reading Clerk of the Senate.

Col. Cowles is eminently fit for this place, and one more worthy or deserving cannot be found. He is and has always been a true-hearted, zealous and self-sacrificing Conservative; and in the late war, he illustrated a high, heroic and pure patriotism, and made a gallant record of which not only himself and friends, but his State as well, may be proud. He was often severely wounded, so that now he is a cripple. On one bloody occasion, he was shot in the head, carried to the dead-house and supposed to be dead for several hours. The mark of the terrible gash is on his skull now. He bears many honorable scars on his head and body. He is indeed a gallant North Carolinian and worthy to be honored and benighted by his party and State.

PHILO.

— Georgia's Example.

In the excitement over the result of the Northern elections, our great triumph in Georgia must not be overlooked. It seems hard to realize that the Empire State of the South, as her citizens proudly persist in calling her, has been carried for the cause of reform and reconciliation by a majority so tremendous as to reach nearly 60,000. When the Hon. Ben. Hill on the stump predicted a majority of 40,000 the papers of his own party made a jest of his being so sanguine. But there is no denying the figures. Where we expected 25,000 we have received 50,000, and the panic among the Radicals is so great that it is really doubtful whether they will make a stand as a party again. So much have the gallant Georgians received as a return for hard work in a good cause.

And the greater credit is due to Georgia because she fought the opening battle of the campaign against Radicalism single handed and alone.—Says the Savannah Republican, with excusable pride, on the morning of the election:

"What the Democracy and Liberal Republicans of Georgia accomplished to-day will have been effected by them entirely without external aid. We have heard of national and central executive committees at New York and Washington which were doing wonders in aiding the State organizations in carrying on the campaign, but as far as Georgia is concerned, 'solitary and alone she sets the ball in motion,' and, unaided, she has been allowed to roll it. Not a man, not a dollar, has been sent into this State on our side, while the enemy has sent many dollars to turn the tide, if possible."

Hertford Removed to Virginia—Old Memories, &c.

CHURCHLAND, VA., Oct. 9, 1872.

Dear News: Though we no longer stand upon our native heath, Hertford shall still be our name, and over that signature we will occasionally send you a communication from our new home in the Old Dominion. Where we write, the Western Branch of the Elizabeth river, nearly half a mile broad, stretches out before us, while just down yonder, but a short distance, the noble Elizabeth gleams in the sunlight. The spires of the Churches in Norfolk are many in view, and the white winged messengers of commerce, going to or coming from the "city by the sea," pass full view of our home. The whistles of countless steamers, and the roar of the iron horse in his daily, we might say hourly pilgrimage, come constantly to our ears, the stir and life of this wonderfully busy age. "Our lines have fallen in pleasant places," but yet there clings to us the memory of the old North State, and loyal son, as we are, we turn to her with more than earnest devotion. God bless North Carolina, the land of our birth, and God bless the Old Dominion too, say we, for in her bosom repose the ashes of sages, heroes and statesmen, and upon her soil there still live as chivalrous, high-toned and hospitable people as ever extended the hand of welcome to a stranger.

There are many things of interest in this section which in some future letter or letters we desire to chronicle for your readers, but which in this communication must be passed over. We have found a pleasant and profitable home here, and if circumstances permit, hereafter will give your columns some impressions concerning persons and things in this land of trucks and trucks.

Last Sunday evening we strolled with pleasant companions, along the beach of the Elizabeth at low tide, and viewed, with no little pleasure, the beauty and grandeur of the Hampton Roads. It is indeed the privilege of the tourist, no matter upon what strand his pilgrimage may rest, to view many sheets of

EUREKA.

Whom I crown with love is royal;
Matters not her blood or birth;
She is queen, and I am loyal
To the noblest of the earth.

Neither place, nor wealth nor title,
Lacks the man my friendship own;
His distinction, true and vital,
Shines supreme o'er crowns and thrones.

Where true love bestows its sweetness,
Where true friendship lays its hand,
Dwells all greatness, all completeness,
All the wealth of every land.

Man is greater than condition,
And when man has been bestow'd,
He is nobler, and more position,
To the gentlest that he know.

No finer ride for tuba
Is the water changed to wine;
Lords and ladies at my table,
Prove Love's simplest gift divine.

And if these accept my duty,
If the loved my homage own,
I have won all worth and beauty;
I have found the magic stone.

UNION SHUTTLE SEWING MACHINE.

AGENTS WANTED

In every county in North and South Carolina. Unparalleled inducements offered to Agents, larger compensation paid than to any man in the Company.

This Machine is particularly adapted to those persons who are unable to purchase one of higher price. The UNION SHUTTLE is the only low-priced Lock-Stitch Machine that has any claim of merit in it. It stands without a rival in durability, strength and power of finishing, making, at a low rate, a Sewing Machine equal to the highest priced ones, and in some respects, superior to them all.

For further particulars, and for Circulars, address JAMES D. OTIS,
General Agent for N. and S. Carolina,

AND OPIUM.

With One Hundred Horses, Ponies, Camels, Mules, Riding Dogs, Monkeys, Trick Elephants, and Puffins, of the best male and female Artists in the world.

If traveling by wagon would require the actual selection of nearly two thousand horses, it is rather difficult to believe by those most competent to judge, while the management are very emphatic in the statement that, taken in the aggregate, the entire exhibition is of the highest order.

J. P. Robinson's exhibition is of the real and solid attraction, merit and value, with a greater variety of marvelous features than is generally contained in twenty other shows.

In order that the public may be able to form an approximating conception of the magnitude of this concern, we will quote at any time—the daily expenses attending John Robinson's exhibition are three times more than the greatest expense of any other exhibition shown in America. It is, therefore, with no ordinary degree of confidence that the management announced that the twelve great shows are positively the largest ever seen on earth.

We respectively solicit the attention of our readers to the following statement of our leading feature of the Great Exhibition, it is, that no space is given to the most popular and interesting feature of the exhibition.
